

[REDACTED]

this argument. The adoption of legislation by "footnote" has on occasion attracted public criticism. Nevertheless, subject to certain constitutional provisions such as the quorum requirements of part II, articles 20 and 37, which are inapplicable here, it remains for the legislature to establish the rules and procedures applicable to the legislative process. See N.H. CONST. pt. II, arts. 22 and 37; see, e.g., Amend. 9 to Rules of the Senate, N.H.S. JOUR. 42 (1983). In our opinion, there are no independent procedural requirements under the due process clauses of either the United States or New Hampshire Constitutions affecting the validity of the legislative process employed in the adoption of the questioned statute. Accordingly, the remedy for those who feel aggrieved by either the statute or the procedures employed by the legislature in its adoption is at the ballot box, not in the courts.

For the foregoing reasons, the order of the superior court dismissing the plaintiffs' suit is affirmed.

Affirmed.

All concurred.

[REDACTED]

Hillsborough
No. 82-230

PETER ROBICHAUD

v.

NELSON MACASKILL, SUPERINTENDENT,
HILLSBOROUGH COUNTY JAIL

February 18, 1983

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Joanne S. Green, of Concord, by brief for the plaintiff.

Gregory H. Smith, attorney general (Peter W. Mosseau, assistant attorney general, on the brief), by brief for the State.

MEMORANDUM OPINION

The plaintiff was arrested by the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Department on a Governor's warrant for extradition to the State of Florida on a drug charge. See RSA ch. 612. He challenged the attempted extradition by way of a habeas corpus petition. See Reeves v. Cox, 118 N.H. 271, 274, 385 A.2d 847, 850 (1978); RSA 612:10. At the hearing before the Superior Court (Pappagianis, J.), the officer who had seized thirty-three grams of cocaine from the plaintiff at the Palm Beach airport testified and identified the plaintiff. We find the evidence to have been sufficient for the court to conclude that the plaintiff was in fact the person sought, and therefore the writ was properly denied.

Affirmed.

Grafton
No. 82-271

MICHAEL C. WHITMAN & a.

v.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC.

March 21, 1983