STATE HOUSE PORTRAITS

The galleries of oil paintings in the State House constitute the best collection of portraits of famous New Hampshire men to be found anywhere. These portraits are the property of the state, some given by descendants or admirers of the subjects, a few purchased by legislative appropriations.

In 1920 the portraits were re-arranged by Superintendent Frank L. Hayes under the supervision of the governor and council and are now hung in galleries as follows:

Doric hall, and the adjoining corridors, first floor, is the gallery of military and naval heroes.

North and south corridors, first floor, is the gallery of members of congress, U. S. senators and representatives.

South corridor, second floor, is the gallery of provincial governors, revolutionary executives and presidents of the state.

Cross and north corridors, second floor, is the gallery of early governors.

The council chamber contains the gallery of recent governors.

Representatives' hall contains a few selected portraits of famous Americans.

Corridors of the third floor contain the gallery of former presidents of the senate; the senate chamber contains portraits of recent senate presidents.

The list of portraits is as follows:

DORIC HALL PORTRAITS

GENERAL HENRY DEARBORN, a portrait copied by U. D. Tenney from the original by Gilbert Stuart, purchased by the state. General Dearborn was a soldier and statesman, born in North Hampton in 1751. He was deputy quartermaster-general on Washington's staff in the Revolutionary war. He became major-general of militia in Maine in 1795, United States marshal for Maine in 1789 and served two terms in congress from that state, 1793-1797. In 1801 he entered the cabinet as secretary of war and served in that capacity until 1809 when he became collector of the port of Boston for three years. The war of 1812 broke out and he resigned to become a major-general in the army during the hostilities. In 1822 he was minister to Portugal. He died in Boston in 1829.

COLONEL ENOCH POOR, a portrait copied by U. D. Tenney from the original by Thaddeus Kosciusko and presented by Colonel Poor's grandson, Colonel Bradbury P. Cilley. The original painting is in an oval locket about two by one and one-half inches in dimensions. Kosciusko sketched it one Sunday in church on a blank leaf of a New Testament and afterwards the artist, a personal friend of the colonel's, colored it and presented it to Colonel Poor. The latter's daughter wore the locket as a breast pin and upon her death it came into the possession of her son, Colonel Cilley, who had the copy painted. Colonel Poor was born in Andover, Mass., June 21, 1736, later coming to Exeter to live. He held a commission in the French war and was in command of the Third New Hampshire Regiment in the Revolution. This regiment was sent to Canada and Col. Poor was made brigadier-general in 1777, later being sent to the army in the Middle states. He died of fever in camp at Hackensack, N. J., September 9, 1780.

GENERAL JOSEPH CILLEY, portrait copied by U. D. Tenney from an original by Trumbull, presented in 1872 by Col. Joseph Cilley. General Cilley was born in Nottingham in 1735. In 1758 he enlisted as a private and served on the Northern frontiers, later holding a commission under the royal government as captain. At the outbreak of the Revolution he was appointed lieutenant-colonel and made colonel in 1777. After the war he was appointed major-general of the militia and served as representative, senator and councilor. He died in 1799.

COLONEL ALEXANDER SCAMMEL, portrait by U. D. Tenney from the original by Trumbull and purchased by the state. Colonel Scammel was born in Mendon (now Milford) Mass. He graduated from Harvard in 1769 and two years later moved to Portsmouth to enter the employment of the government. He studied law in the office of John Sullivan and volunteered at the outbreak of the Revolution, being appointed colonel of the Third New Hampshire Regiment. He was adjutant-general in 1780, was wounded at the siege of Yorktown after being taken prisoner and died from wounds at Williamsburg, Va., Oct. 6, 1781.

GENERAL WILLIAM WHIPPLE, portrait by U. D. Tenney from the original by Trumbull and purchased by the state. General Whipple was born in Kittery, Maine, January 14, 1730, and became a sailor. He was elected to the continental congress in 1776 and signed the Declaration of Independence. He was brigadier-general in the War of the Revolution and assisted in negotiating the terms of General Burgoyne's surrender at Saratoga in 1777. After the war he became judge of the superior court and died in Portsmouth November 28, 1785.

GENERAL JOHN STARK, copied by U. D. Tenney, 1873, from an original by Trumbull. General Stark was born in Londonderry, August 28, 1728. He served as lieutenant in the French and Indian Wars and became colonel of a New Hampshire regiment at the outbreak of the Revolution. He was in command at the battle of Bennington and was afterwards made brigadier-general. In 1778 he was in command of the Northern army. He spent fourteen years as a soldier but was never wounded. His services in the Revolutionary War were of great value to the country. After the close of the war he returned to New Hampshire and devoted himself to agricultural and lumbering interests. He died in Manchester May 8, 1822.

CAPTAIN FRANCIS W. BUTLER, was born in Greenfield, December 3, 1841. He had planned to enter Dartmouth but the Civil War broke out and so he enlisted. He was lieutenant in the 5th N. H., and became captain December 15, 1862. He was wounded June 30, 1864, in front of Petersburg and died the next month at Bennington.

JOHN HORACE KENT, was born in Barnstead. During the Civil War he was sergeant of the 43rd Mass. Infantry, and afterwards was Deputy U. S. Provost Marshall in Portsmouth. From 1887 to 1888 he was warden of the New Hampshire State Prison, and died in Concord in 1888.

GENERAL JOHN L. THOMPSON, portrait by U. D. Tenney, 1898. General Thompson was born in Plymouth in 1835. He was colonel of the 1st N. H. Cavalry and Brevet Brigadier-General U. S. V. for distinguished and meritorious services. He died in Chicago in 1888.

MAJOR EVARTS W. FARR, an original by U. D. Tenney, 1881, presented by Major Farr's widow. Major Farr was born in Littleton in 1840. He was educated at Thetford (Vt.) Academy and Dartmouth. In April 1861, he left college, one of the first to answer Lincoln's call. He was commissioned 1st lieutenant, Co. G., 2nd N. H. Vol., and promoted to captain in 1862. He lost his right arm at Williamsburg. He became captain and then major of the 11th regiment. After the war he was assessor of internal revenue, solicitor for Grafton County, member of governor's council and member of Congress 1879-'80, and died in office.

HARRIET P. DAME, portrait by Caroline L. Ranson, 1902. Miss Dame, one of the most noted war nurses in the Civil War, was born in Barnstead, July 5, 1815. She volunteered at the outbreak of the war, was taken prisoner at the Second battle of Bull Run, but was given a pass through the lines. In 1863 she had charge of the New Hampshire soldiers' Relief Rooms in Washington. She was at the battle of Gettysburg and in 1864 was appointed matron of the Eighteenth Hospital corps. From 1867 to 1895 she was employed as clerk in the treasury department in Washington and died in Concord, April 24, 1900.

GENERAL AARON FLETCHER STEVENS was born in Derry August 9, 1819. He moved to Nashua in 1838, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and in the legislature in 1856-'57. At the beginning of the war he was commissioned major of the First N. H. regiment, then served as colonel in the 13th N. H. regiment from 1862 to the end of the war. He was severely wounded at the assault on Fort Harrison in 1864, and appointed Brigadier-General, by brevet, December 8, 1864. After the war he served as member of Congress for two terms, 1867-1871.

COLONEL PHIN P. BIXBY, an original by U. D. Tenney, presented in 1877 by friends of Col. Bixby. When the war broke out in 1861 Col. Bixby was engaged in practice in Concord. He volunteered for service and was commissioned adjutant of the 6th regiment, N. H. Volunteers. He was wounded at the second battle of Bull Run and taken prisoner to Libby Prison but later exchanged. In 1862 he received his commission as major, was wounded again at Petersburg, after which he was promoted to lieutenant-colonel in 1864 and colonel in 1865.

GENERAL JOHN ADAMS DIX, an original portrait by U. D. Tenney, painted in 1887, presented by friends of General Dix through Henry P. Rolfe. General Dix was born in Boscawen, July 24, 1798. His military career began as captain, U. S. A., which position he resigned in 1828; he became adjutant-general of N. Y., 1830, and secretary of state of New York, 1833. From these state offices he became U. S. senator from New York from 1845 to 1849, and was Secretary of the Treasury in 1861. During the Civil War he was major-general of volunteers. After the close of the war he was naval officer of the port of New York, 1866, minister to France, 1866, and governor of New York, 1872. He was also the first president of the U. P. Railroad. He wrote several sketches and made some translations. He died in New York City, April 21, 1879.

GEN. CHARLES AUGUSTUS DOYEN, portrait by E. Wyatt Kimball, purchased by the state in 1919. General Doyen was born in Concord, September 3, 1859. He was a graduate of Annapolis in 1881, and midshipman for two years then promoted through the ranks to colonel in 1898. He saw service in Cuba during the Spanish-American War and in the Philippine Islands, and was in command of U. S. Marines at Washington at the outbreak of the war with Germany. Promoted brigadier-general, March 22, 1917, he went to France in command of the 5th regiment, U. S. Marines, and was in active service in the Verdun sector but was invalided home in May 1918, and later assigned to command at the Marine training camp in Virginia. He died in 1919.

COL. JESSE A. GOVE, original by A. Tenney, presented in 1874 by the widow of Col. Gove. He was born in Weare in 1825, later residing in Concord. He was 2nd Lieutenant in 1847, Captain of the 10th Infantry in 1855, and Colonel of the Massachusetts 22nd Infantry in 1861. He was killed at Gaines Mills, June 27, 1862.

GEN. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN BUTLER, an original by Darius Cobb, 1889, presented in 1889 by the Butler Club of Massachusetts. General Butler was born in Deerfield, November 5, 1818. He was a lawyer and became a major-general the first year of the Civil War. After the war he became a member of congress from Massachusetts, 1866-75 and from 1877-79, and in 1882 he was governor of Massachusetts. Two years later he was a candidate for president of the United States. He died in Lowell, Mass., January 11, 1893.

On the day when the above portrait, considered to be Cobb's masterpiece, was to be presented to the state, great preparations were made by the legislature, then in session. General Butler, who was to make the presentation, missed his train. He at once hired an engine and arrived in Concord with the portrait only a few minutes late for the celebration.

GENERAL JAMES REID, portrait copied by Anna DeWitt Reed from an original by Trumbull, presented in 1883 by Mrs. Caroline G. Reed. General Reid was from Fitzwilliam and at the opening of the War of the Revolution he raised volunteers and marched to Medford where he was commissioned colonel in the Massachusetts line. Later he went to Exeter and took a commission from New Hampshire and was in the battle of the 17th of June at Breed's Hill. Hardships of camp life brought on blindness and he retired from the army in 1776 and died at Fitzwilliam.

LIEUTENANT JONATHAN EASTMAN, an original by U. D. Tenney, presented in 1887 by John E. Frye and other descendants. Lt. Eastman was paymaster in the War of 1812.

GENERAL JAMES MILLER, copied by U. D. Tenney from original by Henry Willard, presented by the family of General Miller. He was born in Peterborough, April 25, 1776, and became colonel and brevet brigadier-general, serving in the War of 1812. He was governor of Arkansas from 1819-1825 and collector of the port of Salem, Mass., 1825-1849. He died in Temple, July 7, 1851.

COLONEL JOSEPH CILLEY, portrait presented by his descendants in 1876. Colonel Cilley was a soldier and statesman, born in Nottingham in 1791. He served in the War of 1812 and was brevetted captain. In 1846-47 he served as United States senator, elected as the Democratic candidate. He died in the town where he was born and always lived, in 1887.

GENERAL JOHN MCNEIL, portrait presented by his daughters, Mrs. H. W. Benham and Mrs. F. McNeil Potter in 1874. He was born in Hillsborough, March 25, 1784. He served in the War of 1812, and was colonel and brevet brigadier-general. In 1829 he was surveyor of port of Boston, and died in Washington, D. C., February 23, 1850.

REV. ISRAEL EVANS, portrait copied by U. D. Tenney from original by unknown, presented in 1883 by the family of George Porter. Some authorities state that Mr. Evans was born in Pennsylvania and others assert he was a native of New Jersey. He graduated from Princeton in 1772 and was ordained in 1776. He served throughout the Revolution as chaplain, first being assigned to General Poor's brigade of New Hampshire troops, afterwards with Col. Scammell, General Stark and General Geo. Washington. He preached to the soldiers at Valley Forge and addressed them at the surrender of Cornwallis. After the war he became minister of the First Congregational church in Concord and died in that city in 1807, both he and his wife being buried in the Old Cemetery.

COLONEL HALDIMAND SUMNER PUTNAM was born in Cornish, October 15, 1835, and became a colonel of the 7th New Hampshire Volunteers. He died near Ft. Wagner, S. C., July 18, 1863.

COLONEL EDWARD EPHRAIM CROSS, original by U. D. Tenney, 1882, presented in 1883 by Richard E. Cross, a brother. Col. Cross was born in Lancaster, April 22, 1832. He took the first steam engine and printing press across the Rocky Mountains in 1858. He was a lieutenant-colonel in the Mexican army, 1860, and became colonel of the 5th New Hampshire Volunteers, at the outbreak of the Civil War. He died at Gettysburg, Pa., July 2, 1863.

REAR ADMIRAL GEORGE E. BELKNAP, portrait by F. H. Tompkins, 1896. Admiral Belknap was born in Newport in 1832; he was midshipman when only 15 years of age; commissioned lieutenant, Sept. 16, 1855; lieutenant commander, 1862; commander, 1866; commodore, 1885; and rear admiral, 1889. His death has recently been announced.

CAPTAIN JAMES S. THORNTON, original by U. D. Tenney. Captain Thornton was born in Merrimack in 1827. He was a graduate of Annapolis in 1841, appointed captain in 1872, and commanded, among other vessels the famous "Kearsarge". He died at Germantown, Pa., 1875.

MAJOR EDWARD E. STURTEVANT, original by Ansel Clough. Major Sturtevant was born in Keene, August 7, 1826. He is supposed to have been the first man to enlist from New Hampshire. He was commissioned captain in the 1st regiment, then captain of the 5th. He was in every march, skirmish and battle of his regiment until his death upon the field of Fredericksburg, when he fell upholding the flag.

COMMODORE GEORGE HAMILTON PERKINS, portrait by Daniel Strain, presented by his daughter, Mrs. Larz Anderson. Commodore Perkins was born in Hopkinton, October 20, 1835. He was appointed to Annapolis and became acting midshipman in 1851 and won promotion until he became captain in 1882. By special act of Congress he was made a commodore in 1896, the last to be appointed before the rank was abolished. His service in the navy during the Civil War was distinguished and heroic. He was executive officer of the "Cayuga" at the passage of Forts Jackson and St. Philip, and at the capture of New Orleans in 1862, and commanded the "Chicksaw" in the battle of Mobile Bay, being mainly instrumental in the capture of the "Tennessee". He died in Boston, Mass., October 28, 1899.

FIRST FLOOR, NORTH CORRIDOR

CHARLES G. ATHERTON, original by A. Gilbert, 1842, presented in 1875 by widow of Mr. Atherton. He was born in Amherst, July 4, 1804. He was a member of congress 1837-1843 and United States senator, 1843-1849 and 1852-1853. He died in Manchester, November 15, 1853.

JAMES BELL, portrait presented in 1889, by the heirs of Mr. Bell. Mr. Bell was born in Francestown, November 13, 1804, son of Gov. Samuel Bell. He graduated from Bowdoin College in 1822, and was admitted to the bar in 1825. He practiced first in Gilmanton, later moving to Exeter and becoming associated with Hon. Amos Tuck. He was in the House of Representatives in 1846, and 1855-1857 was U. S. senator. He died in Gilford, May 26, 1857.

JAMES W. PATTERSON, crayon portrait presented by Mrs. Patterson. Senator Patterson was born in Henniker, July 2, 1823. He graduated from Dartmouth in 1848, and later taught mathematics there from 1852-1865. He was a member of the N. H. House of Representatives in 1862; representative to Congress, 1863-67 and U. S. Senator, 1867-1873. From 1881-1893 he was state superintendent of education and received the degree of LL. D. from Iowa College in 1868. His literary work included numerous speeches, addresses, lectures and orations. He died at Hanover, May 4, 1893.

EDWARD H. ROLLINS, an original by Daniel Strain. Senator Rollins was born in Rollinsford, October 3, 1824. He started in business as a druggist clerk and later went into the drug business for himself in Concord. He was always actively interested in politics and was made chairman of the first state central committee of the Republican party. He was a member of the House of Representatives in 1855, speaker in 1856 and in 1861 was elected to the U. S. House of Representatives, which position he held for three terms. From 1877 to 1883 he was U. S. Senator. He was particularly faithful to his duties as congressman and was rarely absent from any of the sessions. He died July 31, 1889.

JACOB H. GALLINGER, portrait by C. H. Gebhard, presented by Senator Gallinger's sister. He was born in Cornwall, Ontario, Canada, March 28, 1837. He learned and worked at the printer's trade and then studied medicine. He first practiced in Keene but later moved to Concord. He soon entered politics, however, and had a long and successful political career. He was a member of the N. H. house of representatives, 1872, 1873 and 1891, of the state senate, 1878, 1879, 1880, being president the last two years; surgeon-general of staff of Gov. Head, with rank of brigadier-general, 1879-1880; member of the U. S. house of representatives, 1885-1889; and was elected U. S. senator for six years from March 4, 1891, and four times re-elected, which office he held at the time of his death, August 17, 1918. He was the oldest member of the senate in point of service and leader of the Republican party in that body, being long regarded as the foremost champion of the protective tariff policy.

FIRST FLOOR, SOUTH CORRIDOR

JAMES SHEAFE, original portrait by Henry Inman, presented in 1882 by John Fisher Sheafe, a son. Senator Sheafe was born in Portsmouth, November 16, 1775, was a member of congress, 1799-1801, and United States senator 1801-1802. He died in Portsmouth, December 5, 1829.

JOSIAH BARTLETT, JR., portrait presented by Josiah Bartlett in 1873. Mr. Bartlett was a physician in Stratham. He served as state senator from 1809-1811 and as Congressman from 1811-1813. He was killed in May, 1853, when the bridge over which he was crossing gave way.

JACOB H. ELA, crayon presented in 1891 by Mr. Ela's family. Mr. Ela was born in Rochester, July 18, 1820. He was apprenticed to a woolen manufacturer and later went to Concord to learn the printer's trade, returning to Rochester in 1847. He served as representative in 1857-1858; U. S. Marshal for New Hampshire, 1861-1866; in congress, 1867-1871; and became Fifth Auditor of the Treasury at Washington in 1872, which position he held until 1881 when he was made Auditor of the Treasury for the post-office department. He died August 13, 1884.

CYRUS A. SULLOWAY, portrait by Frank French, 1913, presented by N. H. State Veterans Association. Mr. Sulloway was born in Grafton, June 8, 1839. He took a partial course at Kimball Union Academy, was admitted to the bar in 1863, and went to practice in Manchester. He became a member of U. S. house of representatives in 1895, which position he held, by successive re-elections, with the exception of two years, 1913-1915, until the date of his death, March 11, 1917. During the Civil War he enlisted three times but was rejected each time for physical disability. In Congress he defended the cause of the veterans of the war and was instrumental in securing relief for them.

FIRST FLOOR, CROSS CORRIDOR

JOHN DE GRAFF, original presented in 1837 by F. W. Cragin. He was governor of Saint Eustatia, one of the Dutch West India Islands. He was the first sovereign who officially acknowledged the American independence.

ZACHARIAH CHANDLER, portrait presented by his daughter, Mrs. Mary Chandler Hale of Elsworth, Maine, in 1915. Mr. Chandler was born in Bedford, December, 10, 1813. He was U. S. senator from Michigan 1857-1874 and 1879 and secretary of interior 1874. He died in Chicago, Ill., November 1, 1879.

SECOND FLOOR PORTRAITS

SOUTH CORRIDOR

SIMON BRADSTREET, portrait copied by A. Tenney from an original by unknown, in possession of the Boston Museum, purchased by the state. Governor Bradstreet was born in England, March, 1603, was educated at Cambridge, England, and came to America as assistant judge in 1630. He was made commissioner of the New England confederacy and from 1679 to 1686 and again from 1689-1692 he was governor of Massachusetts. He was governor in the period of the second union of New Hampshire with Massachusetts Bay. He died in Salem, Mass., March 27, 1697.

JOSEPH DUDLEY, portrait copied by A. Tenney from original by unknown, in the possession of the Massachusetts Historical Society. It was purchased by the state. Joseph Dudley was born in Roxbury, Mass., Sept. 23, 1647, son of Thomas Dudley, Governor of Massachusetts. He graduated from Harvard in 1665. He was the agent of the Massachusetts Colony in England, then became president in 1685. Later he was a member of Governor Slaughter's Council and Chief Justice of the Province of New York in which capacity he tried and condemned Governor Lesiler. After holding the office of Lieut. Gov. of the Isle of Wight he was appointed as Governor of Massachusetts and New Hampshire in 1702 and continued in office until 1715. He died in Roxbury, Mass., April 2, 1720.

WILLIAM BURNET, portrait copied by A. Tenney from original in the Senate chamber, Boston, Mass., purchased by the state. William Burnet was born in Hague, Holland, March 1688. He was the son of Bishop Burnet. For several years he was governor of New York and was then transferred to the colony of Massachusetts, being governor in 1728-1729. He died in Boston, Mass., Sept. 1729.

JONATHAN BELCHER, portrait copied by A. Tenney from original in the possession of the Mass. Hist. Soc., presented in 1879 by Ralph Cross Cutter. He was born in Cambridge, Mass., January 8, 1681, the son of a wealthy citizen of Massachusetts, and was educated in that colony. After completing his studies at home he spent several years of travel in Europe, and later was returned to England as agent of the colony of Massachusetts. He was appointed governor of the provinces of New Hampshire and Massachusetts which office he held from 1730-1741. He died in Elizabeth, N. J., August 31, 1757.

JOHN WENTWORTH, portrait copied by U. D. Tenney from original by John S. Copley, presented in 1874 by Mark H. Wentworth. John Wentworth was born in Portsmouth, August 9, 1737, son of Lieutenant-Governor John Wentworth. He graduated from Harvard in 1755; was governor of the colony, 1767-1775, surveyor-general of King's woods in North America; governor of Nova Scotia, 1792-1808, having been created baronet in 1795. It was mainly through his instrumentality that Dartmouth College was founded and he received from that institution the first honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. He died in Halifax, N. S., April 8, 1820.

JOHN LANGDON, a portrait copied by U. D. Tenney from the original by Trumbull, presented in 1873 by Rev. Alfred Langdon-Elwyn, of Philadelphia, Pa., a grandson. John Langdon was born in Portsmouth, June 25, 1741. He was one of the party which seized Fort William and Mary at New Castle in 1774 and carried away the military stores; a delegate to the continental congress in 1775 and 1776; speaker of the house of representatives 1776 and 1777; a judge of the court of common pleas; continental agent in New Hampshire for building public ships; and delegate to congress in 1783. He was president of the state in 1785 and in November 1788 was elected Senator of the United States and was first president, pro tem. of that body under the federal constitution. From 1805 to 1808 and again in 1810 and 1811 he was governor of the state. He was one of New Hampshire's most distinguished citizens and held many offices of high honor and trust. He died in Portsmouth September 18, 1819.

JOHN SULLIVAN, a portrait copied by A. Tenney from original pencil sketch by Trumbull, 1790, now in the possession of the N. H. Historical Society, presented in 1873 by Dr. John Sullivan of Boston, a great-grandson. John Sullivan was born in Dover, in that part called Somersworth, Feb. 18, 1740. He practiced law in Durham, but was also a soldier for many years. In 1775 he was appointed brigadier-general in the army of the Revolution and in 1779 a major-general. He was in command at Winter Hill and also in command of the army in Rhode Island, distinguished himself in the battles of Brandywine and Germantown, and was at the head of the expedition against the Western Indians in 1779. He held numerous state offices, after his military career, such as agent to settle disputed bounds of the N. H. grants, attorney-general, etc., and in 1786, 1787 and 1789 he was president of N. H. REPRESENTATIVES HALL

JOHN WENTWORTH, portrait copied by U. D. Tenney, 1873, from an original by J. Blackburn, 1760, presented in 1874 by Mark H. Wentworth. Governor Wentworth was born in Portsmouth, January 16, 1671, and served as Lieutenant Governor from December 7, 1717, until his death in Portsmouth, December 12, 1730. During this time the governor of New Hampshire was also the governor of the province of Massachusetts and resided in the latter province so that Lieutenant Governor Wentworth was in charge in New Hampshire and was in exclusive charge of the government from the time of Governor Shute's departure for England in June, 1723, until the arrival of his successor, Governor Burnet, in America, in 1728.

BENNING WENTWORTH, portrait copied by U. D. Tenney, 1873, from an original by J. Blackburn, 1760, presented in 1874 by Mark H. Wentworth. Benning Wentworth, the eldest of fourteen children of Lieutenant-Governor John Wentworth, was born in Portsmouth, July 24, 1696. He was governor of the province under two commissions from Kings George II and George III. His administration was the longest in the history of the province and extended from December 15, 1741, to August 11, 1766. During his administration there were French and Indian wars and while the people of the province performed their part loyally there was much jealousy and lack of harmony between the governor, as the representative of the crown and the Assembly, as representative of the people. After the establishment of peace in 1762 the condition of the province was more prosperous and many new townships were settled. But a few years later relations with the mother country became strained. It was alleged that the governor was lax in reporting matters to the home government and he was in disfavor in England. Before he could be removed, however, he took advantage of the opportunity to resign and his nephew, John Wentworth, was appointed his successor. Benning Wentworth died in Portsmouth, October 14, 1770.

FRANKLIN PIERCE, an original by U. D. Tenney, 1874, presented the same year by Frank Hawthorne Pierce, a nephew. President Pierce was born in Hillsborough November 23, 1804. He graduated from Bowdoin in 1824 and was admitted to the bar in 1827. In 1833 he was elected to congress and in 1837 elected to the U. S. senate, retiring from that body in 1842 and settling in Concord to practice law. He declined the nomination of the democratic convention for governor and at the outbreak of the Mexican War enlisted as a private, but later was given commission as brigadier-general. He was the fourteenth president of the United States, serving from 1853 to 1857. He died in Concord October 8, 1869.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, first president of the United States, portrait copied by Walter Ingalls, a native of Sanbornton, from an original by Gilbert Stuart, purchased by the state.

DANIEL WEBSTER an original by Albert Gallatin Hoyt, a native of Sandwich, purchased by the state. Daniel Webster, statesman and one of the great orators of the country, was born in Salisbury, June 18, 1782. He was a member of Congress from 1813 to 1817. United States senator from Massachusetts, 1827-1841, and secretary of the United States 1841-1843. He died at Marshfield, Mass., October 24, 1852.

JOHN P. HALE, original portrait by U. D. Tenney, 1874, presented the same year by friends of Mr. Hale. Mr. Hale was born in Rochester March 31, 1806. He graduated from Bowdoin in 1827 and began the practice of law in 1830. He entered the legislature in 1832 as a democrat, was U. S. attorney for his district from 1834 to 1841, United States Senator 1847-1853 and again in 1855-1865. He was the Free Soil candidate for president of the United States in 1852. When he first was a member of the senate he was the only one opposed to slavery. From 1865 to 1869 he was minister to Spain and died in Dover, November 19, 1875.

The foregoing list of portraits only includes those portraits in the corridors, council chamber, senate chamber and house of representatives. There are, however, many other portraits of noted citizens of New Hampshire in the various offices in the State House, these portraits being hung in the departments where they held office.

Governor Plumer was the only member of the Electoral College to vote against the re-election of President Monroe. It has been generally understood that he objected to any man receiving a unanimous choice such as that given to Washington, but recent investigations into the history of this election indicate that such was not the motive of Governor Plumer, but that he was opposed to the President on political grounds.

Popular Vote:

There was no contest and the following were chosen:

18. Penalties to be proportioned to offenses; true design of punishment.
19. Searches and seizures regulated.

*The side notes indicate the decisions of the supreme court.

All amendments are shown by notes at the bottom of the page, indicating the year in which they took effect. The amendments of 1792, "so far as relates to the choice of the members of the legislature and the executive officers of the state, country treasurer, and recorder of deeds" took effect on February 1, 1793, and all others on the first Wednesday of June, 1793.

The amendments of 1850 took effect September 16, 1852; those of 1876, August 1, 1877, October 1, 1878, and the first Wednesday of June, 1879, as indicated in the foot notes; those of 1889, April 2, 1889; those of 1902 on March 26, 1903, and those of 1912 on November 20, 1912.

The numbering of the sections of Part II first appeared in the Revised Statutes of 1842. In 1889, when the tenth section of Part II was stricken out, all subsequent sections were moved forward, with the result of making much confusion in citations. In this copy of the former numbering has been placed in a parenthesis at the side of the present number.

ARTICLE 1ST. All men are born equally free and independent; therefore, all government of right originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.

[ART.] *2^d. All men have certain natural, essential, and inherent rights, among which are the enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, and protecting property, and, in a word, of seeking and obtaining happiness.

[ART.] 3^d. When men enter into a state of society, they surrender up some of their natural rights to that society, in order to insure the protection of others; and, without such equivalent, the surrender is void.

[ART.] 4th. Among the natural rights, some are in their very nature unalienable, because no equivalent can be given or received for them. Of this kind are the rights of conscience.

[ART.] 5th. Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience and reason; and no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshiping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience, or for his religious profession, sentiments, or persuasion, provided he doth not disturb the public peace or disturb others in their religious worship.

[ART.] 6th. As morality and piety, rightly grounded on evangelical principles, will give the best and greatest security to government, and will lay in the hearts of men the strongest obligations to due subjection, and as the knowledge of these is most likely to be propagated through a society by the institution of the public worship of the Deity and of public instruction in morality and religion, therefore to promote those important purposes, the people of this state have a right to empower, and do hereby fully empower, the legislature to authorize, from time to time, the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies within this state to make adequate provision, at their own expense, for the support and maintenance of public Protestant teachers of piety, religion, and morality.

Provided, notwithstanding, that the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies shall at all times have the exclusive right of electing their own public teachers and of contracting with them for their support and maintenance. And no person of any one particular religious sect or denomination shall ever be compelled to pay towards the support of the teacher or teachers of another persuasion, sect, or denomination.

And every denomination of Christians, demeaning themselves quietly and as good subjects of the state, shall be equally under the protection of the law; and no subordination of any one sect or denomination to another shall ever be established by law.

And nothing herein shall be understood to affect any former contracts made for the support of the ministry; but all such contracts shall remain and be in the same state as if this constitution had not been made.

[ART.] 7th. The people of this state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves as a free, sovereign, and independent state, and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right pertaining thereto which is not or may not hereafter be by them expressly delegated to the United States of America in congress assembled.

[ART.] 8th. All power residing originally in, and being derived from, the people, all the magistrates and officers of government are their substitutes and agents and at all times accountable to them.

Right of electing religious teachers.

lxvi, 230.

Free toleration.
liii, 9.

Existing contracts not affected.

State sovereignty.
lxvi, 369.

Accountability of magistrates and officers. lxvi, 369.
lxvii, 49.

No hereditary office
or place.

[ART.] 9th. No office or place whatsoever in government shall be hereditary, the abilities and integrity requisite in all not being transmissible to posterity or relations.

Right of revolution.

[ART.] 10th. Government being instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security of the whole community, and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family, or class of men, therefore, whenever the ends of government are perverted and public liberty manifestly endangered and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to, reform the old or establish a new government. The doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power and oppression is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

Elections and

[ART.] 11th. All elections ought to be free; and every inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualifications, has equal right to elect and be elected into office; [but no person shall have the right to vote, or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state, who shall not be able to read the constitution in the English language, and to write; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age or upwards on the first day of January, A. D. 1904,]* [and provided further, that no person shall have the right to vote, or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state who shall have been convicted of treason, bribery, or any wilful violation of the election laws of this state or of the United States; but the supreme court may, on notice to the attorney-general restore the privileges of an elector to any person who may have forfeited them by conviction of such offences.]†

*Inserted, 1903.

†Inserted, 1912.

[ART.] 12th. Every member of the community has a right to be protected by it in the enjoyment of his life, liberty, and property. He is, therefore, bound to contribute his share in the expense of such protection, and to yield his personal service, when necessary, or an equivalent. But no part of a man's property shall be taken from him or applied to public uses without his own consent or that of the representative body of the people. Nor are the inhabitants of this state controllable by any other laws than those to which they or their representative body have given their consent.

[ART.] 13th. No person who is conscientiously scrupulous about the lawfulness of bearing arms shall be compelled thereto, provided he will pay an equivalent.

Conscientiously scrupulous, not compellable to bear arms.

[ART.] 14th. Every subject of this state is entitled to a certain remedy, by having recourse to the laws, for all injuries he may receive in his person, property, or character, to obtain right and justice freely, without being obliged to purchase it; completely and without any denial; promptly and without delay; conformably to the laws.

Legal remedies to be free, complete, and prompt.
lxi, 610. lxv, 113.

[ART.] 15th. No subject shall be held to answer for any crime or offense until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him, or be compelled to accuse or furnish evidence against himself. And every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to himself, to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defense by himself and counsel. And no subject shall be arrested, imprisoned, despoiled, or deprived of his property, immunities, or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled, or deprived of his life, liberty, or estate, but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land.

Accused entitled to full and substantial statement of charge; not obliged to furnish evidence; may produce proofs and be fully heard, etc. Sm., 367.

[ART.] 17th. In criminal prosecutions, the trial of facts in the vicinity where they happened is so essential to the security of the life, liberty, and estate of the citizen, that no crime or offense ought to be tried in any other county than that in which it is committed, except in cases of general insurrection in any particular county, when it shall appear to the judges of the superior court that an impartial trial cannot be had in the county where the offense may be committed, and, upon their report, the [legislature]* shall think proper to direct the trial in the nearest county in which an impartial trial can be obtained.

penalties to be proportioned to offenses.

[ART.] 18th. All penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No wise legislature will affix the same punishment to the crimes of theft, forgery, and the like, which they do to those of murder and treason. Where the same undistinguishing severity is exerted against all offenses, the people are led to forget the real distinction in the crimes themselves and to commit the most flagrant with as little compunction as they do† the lightest [offenses].‡ For the same reason, a multitude of sanguinary laws is both impolitic and unjust, the true design of all punishments being to reform, not to exterminate, mankind.

[ART. 83 (84).] Any person chosen [governor],† coun-tilor, senator, or representative, military or civil officer (town officers excepted), accepting the trust, shall, before he proceeds to execute the duties of his office, make and subscribe the following declaration, viz.:—

[I, A. B., do solemnly swear that I will bear faith and true allegiance to the state of New Hampshire and will support the constitution thereof. So help me God.]‡

I, A B, do solemnly and sincerely swear and affirm that I will faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties incumbent on me as—, according to the best of my abilities, agreeably to the rules and regulations of this constitution and the laws of the state of New Hampshire. So help me God.

[Any person having taken and subscribed the oath of allegiance, and the same being filed in the secretary's office, he shall not be obliged to take said oath again.]§

Provided, always, when any person chosen or appointed as aforesaid shall be of the denomination called Quakers, or shall be scrupulous of swearing and shall decline taking the said oaths, such [person] shall take and sub-

[ART. 91 (92).] The enacting style, in making and passing acts, statutes, and laws, shall be, Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened.

Governor and judges prohibited from holding other offices.

[ART. 92 (93).] No [governor]* or judge of the [supreme judicial]† court shall hold any office or place under the authority of this state, except such as by this constitution they are admitted to hold, saving that the judges of the said court may hold the offices of justice of the peace throughout the state; nor shall they hold any place or office or receive any pension or salary from any other state, government, or power whatever.

Incompatibility of offices; only two offices of profit to be holden at same time.

[ART. 93 (94).] No person shall be capable of exercising at the same time more than one of the following offices within this state, viz: judge of probate, sheriff, register of deeds; and never more than two offices of profit, which may be held by appointment of the [governor]* or [governor]* and council, or senate and house of representatives, or superior or inferior courts, military offices and offices of justices of the peace excepted.

No member of the council shall have a seat in the senate or house of representatives.]†

Incompatibility of certain offices.

[ART. 95 (96).] No person shall ever be admitted to hold a seat in the legislature, or any office of trust or importance under this government, who, in the due course of law, has been convicted of bribery or corruption in obtaining an election or appointment.

Bribery and corruption disqualify for office.

[ART. 96 (97).] In all cases where sums of money are mentioned in this constitution, the value thereof shall be computed in silver at six shillings and eight pence per ounce.

Revision of constitution provided for. lxxvi, 587, 613.

[ART. 98 (99).] It shall be the duty of the selectmen and assessors of the several towns and places in this state, in warning the first annual meetings for the choice of senators, after the expiration of seven years from the adoption of this constitution as amended, to insert expressly in the warrant this purpose among the others for the meeting, to wit: to take the sense of the qualified voters on the subject of a revision of the constitution; and, the meeting being warned accordingly, and not otherwise, the moderator shall take the sense of the qualified voters present as to the necessity of a revision; and a return of the number of votes for and against such necessity shall be made by the clerk, sealed up, and directed to the general court at their then next session; and if it shall appear to the general court by such return that the sense of the people of the state has been taken, and that, in the opinion of the majority of the qualified voters in the state present and voting at said meetings, there is a necessity for a revision of the constitution, it shall be the duty of the general court to call a convention for that purpose; otherwise, the general court shall direct the sense of the people to be taken, and then proceed in the manner before mentioned; the delegates to be chosen in the same manner and proportioned as the representatives to the general court; provided, that no alterations shall be made in this constitution before the same shall be laid before the towns and unincorporated places and approved by two thirds of the qualified voters present and voting on the subject.

Question on revision to be taken every seven years. lxxvi, 613.

[ART. 99 (100).] [And the same method of taking the sense of the people as to a revision of the constitution and calling a convention for that purpose shall be observed afterwards, at the expiration of every seven years.]

PRESIDENTIAL CONVENTIONS

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The Republican delegates with their alternates elected in the Primary attended the National Convention of their party held in Chicago in June.

Fred Estabrook of Nashua was re-elected National Committeeman and Frank Knox of Manchester was Chairman of the delegation. The convention nominated Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio for President and Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts for Vice President.

The Republican state convention subsequently selected as Harding, and Coolidge electoral candidates Mrs. Alice H. Glessner, Arthur E. Childs, George N. Towle and Albert J. Precourt.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Delegates elected at the National Primary by the Democratic Party attended their National Convention which was held at San Francisco in July. Robert C. Murchie of Concord was re-elected National Committeeman and Eugene E. Reed of Manchester was elected Chairman of the delegation.

The Convention nominated Governor James M. Cox of Ohio for President and Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York for Vice President.

The Democratic state convention subsequently selected as Cox and Roosevelt electoral candidates, Mrs. Marion Dudley Jameson, Mrs. Alice S. Harriman, Patrick H. Sullivan and Henri A. Burque.

SOCIALIST NOMINATIONS.

The Socialist party, instead of holding a national convention, conducted its customary referendum on nominations which resulted in the selection of Eugene V. Debs as the candidate for president and Seymour Stedman for vice-president.

The Socialists nominated for Debs and Stedman electoral candidates, by petition, George C. Brooks, Ralph E. Day, George A. Reid and William B. Wellman. The Socialists also nominated, by petitions, candidates for governor, United States senator and congressman from the first district.

THE COUNTIES

When New Hampshire was a part of the colony of Massachusetts Bay, from 1641 to 1679, the principle towns of New Hampshire were part of Norfolk county in Massachusetts. These towns were Hampton, Exeter, Dover and Portsmouth (Strawberry Bank). In 1755 it was proposed to divide New Hampshire into the Counties of Portsmouth and Cumberland, the Merrimack river to divide. New Hampshire did not divide herself into counties, however, until 1769, six years before the Revolution. In that year the five counties of Rockingham, Strafford, Hillsborough, Cheshire and Grafton were established.

Coos was the sixth county established in 1803. Merrimack and Sullivan were established on the same day in 1827, and Belknap and Carroll on the same day in 1840. Since the original division into counties the legislature on twenty occasions has amended and changed the layout. The following is a list of counties in their customary order, giving the name of each, the date of its establishment and the place of the county seat.

Name	Date	County Seat
Rockingham	1769	Exeter
Strafford	1769	Dover
Belknap	1840	Laconia
Carroll	1840	Ossipee
Merrimack	1827	Concord
Hillsborough	1769	Nashua
Cheshire	1769	Keene
Sullivan	1827	Newport
Grafton	1769	Haverhill
Coos	1803	Lancaster

ROCKINGHAM county is in the southeastern part of the state and was the first part settled. It was named for the Marquis of Rockingham and includes the city of Portsmouth and thirty-six towns.

STRAFFORD county is in the eastern part of the state, north of Rockingham county. It was named for the Earl of Strafford and includes three cities and ten towns.

BELKNAP county takes in the lake region in the central part of the state. It was named for Dr. Jeremy Belknap, who wrote a history of the state, and includes the city of Laconia and ten towns.

CARROLL county is in the east central part of the state and is sparsely settled. It was named for Charles Carroll of Carrollton, Virginia, who signed the Declaration of Independence, and includes eighteen towns.

MERRIMACK county is in the Merrimack river region in the south central part of the state. It was named for the river and includes two cities and twenty-five towns.

HILLSBOROUGH county is in the south central part of the state and is the most thickly populated. It was named for the Earl of Hillsborough, a councilor of King George III, and includes two cities and twenty-nine towns.

CHESHIRE county is in the southwestern corner of the state, and at the time the state government was organized there was some controversy over whether the territory now embraced in the county belonged to New Hampshire or Vermont. It was named for Cheshire county in England and includes the city of Keene and twenty-two towns.

SULLIVAN county is in the west central part of the state, and like Cheshire County, was embroiled in early boundary disputes. It was named for John Sullivan, a general in the Revolutionary army and later governor, and includes fifteen towns.

GRAFTON county is in the northwestern part of the state and large parts of it are sparsely settled. It was named for an English nobleman and includes thirty-nine towns.

COOS county is in the northern part of the state and is the largest county. It was named after an Indian word meaning "crooked" and was so called on account of the bend in the Connecticut river. It has an area of about a million acres and includes the city of Berlin and twenty towns .

LEGAL VOTERS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

The following tables, give by counties, the comparative figures for every town and ward, on number of voters and votes cast. The first column gives the population of the town, the second gives the number of legal voters at the time of the election Nov. 2, 1920, the third gives the total number of votes cast at that election, the fourth gives the number of ballots required at future elections.

The population totals are slightly less than the totals given in the 1920 census tables in a preceeding chapter. This is accounted for by the population of unincorporated places.

The total vote figures are slightly in excess of the total vote cast for any office, as shown in the election returns. This is accounted for by the failure of a small percentage of voters to vote for all the offices.

The constitutional amendment submitted in 1920 for reorganization of the New Hampshire House of Representatives provided that the basis of representation should be votes cast for president. For purposes of calculation, the figures here shown under the heading of "Votes cast, 1920" would not vary more than one or two per cent from votes cast for president.

An asterisk at figure given indicates estimated figure in absence of exact report.

REPUBLICAN ORGANIZATION 1920

The Republican state convention met at Concord, September 28, 1920, under the presidency of Charles S. Emerson of Milford, a candidate for the senate. The following platform was adopted:

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We, Republicans of New Hampshire, met in State convention, pledge to the state and the nation our united efforts to restore the sovereignty of the people and to preserve the fundamental principles of the Constitution of the United States. We endorse the declarations of the Republican National Platform of 1920 and urge all people to enlist, for the maintenance of American institutions and the establishment of world peace based on international law, under the able leadership of Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge.

We congratulate the country on the achievement of equal suffrage by Republican legislatures; and we assure to the women of New Hampshire merited recognition in our councils and in the affairs of state, and confidently invite them to seek sound government through the channel of our party, a party pledged to the solution of social and industrial problems through national and state legislature according to the best progressive thought.

We further congratulate the country on the beneficial effects of prohibition and we pledge ourselves to its effective enforcement in state and nation.

We gratefully renew our expression of pride in New Hampshire's valiant sons and daughters who fought to enhance the fame of the state and to preserve the freedom of the nation; and we pledge the Republican party, through its Senators and Representatives in Congress, to deal justly, patriotically, and liberally with them and their dependents. We welcome the influence of their experience and steadfast Americanism in our championship of right and justice.

We earnestly recommend careful consideration of the faithful work of the Constitutional Convention, to the end that changes in the organic law of our state may be made through the intelligent and deliberate judgment of all the people.

We commend the administration of Governor Bartlett, and we offer to the people candidates whose triumphant election will insure adherence to well tested American principles, and a wise, economical, and progressive administration of the public affairs; and, we believe in the efficient maintenance of our public school system, our state institutions, both educational and humanitarian, and pledge ourselves by salutary legislation and its effective enforcement, to promote the educational, social, industrial, agricultural, and financial welfare of our state.

Finally, we believe that, by the success of our national ticket, the United States will hold unchallenged a position of dignity, and will prosecute a policy of honest co-operation for the maintenance of peace, a policy resting upon the absolute foundation of unassailable American independence.

DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION 1920

The Democratic state convention met at Concord September 29, 1920, under the presidency of Gordon Woodbury of Bedford, assistant secretary of the navy. The following platform was adopted.

DEMOCRATIC STATE PLATFORM

We, the Democrats of New Hampshire, in convention assembled, endorse, without qualification, the progressive and forward-looking national Democratic Platform including the adoption of the League of Nations.

We advocate the ratification of the treaty without reservations which would impair its essential integrity but do not oppose any reservation making it clearer or more specific that under no article of the Covenant are we under obligation to use military force, or under article 10, force of any kind, military or economic.

We congratulate the nation upon the splendid administration of Woodrow Wilson in peace and in war and we regard as nothing short of providential the circumstances of his leadership in our hour of greatest national peril. We condemn in the strongest terms the campaign of deliberate misrepresentation now being indulged in by the Republican Party.

We congratulate the Democratic State of Tennessee on its action in making possible the ultimate enfranchisement of twenty million women after the Republican Governors of Vermont and Connecticut refused to take action. We also congratulate the women of New Hampshire on the attainment of their political rights and commend to their careful consideration the traditional principles of equality and justice of the great Democratic Party.

We condemn the present Republican Congress for its neglect and failure to enact any legislation in the interests of the men and women who so faithfully and patriotically served their country and the cause of humanity in the greatest war in history and we pledge our assistance in securing appropriate legislation and just compensation in continued appreciation of their loyalty and sacrifice.

We believe that the League of Nations is essential to the world's peace and we further believe that the just settlement of the status of Ireland is essential to make that peace permanent. We, therefore, approve of and commend the statement of Governor Cox, our standard bearer, that he will present to the League of Nations as its first business the application of the principles of self-determination to Ireland, and we justify our approval by re-asserting our belief in the principle contained in the Declaration of Independence that all Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

We stand for the strict enforcement of the 18th amendment of the Constitution of the United States.

We believe in the abolition of the Governor's Council and increased membership of the Senate (the representation to be based on population and not upon wealth, as now.); the initiative and referendum and giving the Governor power to veto certain items in appropriation bills.

We are unalterably opposed to the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State basing representation on votes cast at the Presidential election instead of upon population. We regard it as unjust in principle and unfair in operation.

The Democratic party has ever pointed the way for progressive and enlightened labor legislation, and we pledge our continued support to this most worthy cause.

We condemn the extravagance of the present Republican State Administration. We demand: Economy in State expenditures; keeping expenditures within appropriations; economical construction and maintenance of highways; legislation to increase the scope and activity of the State College; centralized and efficient control of State Departments, and institutions. We favor aid to the farmer through educational courses in the public schools and a further extension of the bureau of markets.

SOCIALIST ORGANIZATION, 1920

Platform

In the national campaign of 1920 the Socialist Party calls upon all American workers of hand and brain, and upon all citizens who believe in political liberty and social justice, to free the country from the oppressive misrule of the old political parties, and to take the government into their own hands under the banner and upon the program of the Socialist Party.

The outgoing administration, like Democratic and Republican administration of the past, leaves behind it a disgraceful record of solemn pledges unscrupulously broken and public confidence ruthlessly betrayed.

It obtained the suffrage of the people on a platform of peace, liberalism and social betterment, but drew the country into a devastating war, and inaugurated a regime of despotism, reaction and oppression unsurpassed in the annals of the republic.

It promised to the American people a treaty which would assure to the world a reign of international right and true democracy. It gave its sanction and support to an infamous pact formulated behind closed doors by predatory elder statesmen of European and Asiatic Imperialism. Under this pact territories have been annexed against the will of their populations and cut off from their source of sustenance; nations seeking their freedom in the exercise of the much heralded right of self-determination, have been brutally fought with armed force, intrigue and starvation blockades.

To the millions of young men, who staked their lives on the field of battle, to the people of the country who gave unstintingly of their toil and property to support the war, the Democratic administration held out the sublime ideal of a union of the peoples of the world organized to maintain perpetual peace among nations on the basis of justice and freedom. It helped create a reactionary alliance of imperialistic governments, banded together to bully weak nations, crush working-class governments and perpetuate strife and warfare.

While thus furthering the ends of reaction, violence and oppression abroad, our administration suppressed the cherished and fundamental rights and civil liberties at home.

Upon the pretext of war-time necessity, the Chief Executive of the republic and the appointed heads of his administration were clothed with dictatorial powers (which were often exercised arbitrarily), and Congress enacted laws in open and direct violation of the constitutional safeguards of freedom of expression.

Hundreds of citizens who raised their voices for the maintenance of political and industrial rights during the war, were indicted under the Espionage law, tried in an atmosphere of prejudice and hysteria, and many of them are now serving inhumanly long jail sentences for daring to uphold the traditions of liberty which once were sacred in this country.

Agents of the Federal Government unlawfully raided homes and meeting places and prevented or broke up peaceable gatherings of citizens.

The postmaster-general established a censorship of the press more autocratic than ever tolerated in a regime of absolutism, and has harassed and destroyed publications on account of their advanced political and economic views, by excluding them from the mails.

And after the war was in fact long over, the administration has not scrupled to continue a policy of repression and terrorism under the shadow and hypocritical guise of war-time measures.

It has practically imposed involuntary servitude and peonage on a large class of American workers by denying them the right to quit work and coercing them into acceptance of inadequate wages and onerous conditions of labor. It has dealt a foul blow to the traditional American right of asylum by deporting hundreds of foreign born workers by administrative order, on the mere suspicion of harboring radical views, and often for the sinister purpose of breaking labor strikes.

In the short span of three years our self-styled liberal administration has succeeded in undermining the very foundation of political liberty and economic rights, which this republic has built up in more than a century of struggle and progress.

Under the cloak of a false oath and hypocritical patriotism and under the protection of governmental terror the Democratic administration has given the ruling classes unrestrained license to plunder the people by intensive exploitation of labor, by the extortion of enormous profits, and by increasing the cost of all necessities of life. Profiteering has become reckless and rampant, billions have been coined by the capitalists out of the suffering and misery of their fellow men. The American financial oligarchy has become a dominant factor in the world, while the condition of the American workers has grown more precarious.

The responsibility does not rest upon the Democratic party alone. The Republican party through its representatives in Congress and otherwise, has not only openly condoned the political misdeeds of the last three years, but has sought to outdo its Democratic rival in the orgy of political reaction and repression. Its criticism of the Democratic administrative policy is that it is not reactionary and drastic enough.

America is now at the parting of the roads. If the outraging of political liberty, and concentration of economic power into the hands of the few is permitted to go on, it can have only one consequence, the reduction of the country to a state of absolute capitalist despotism.

We particularly denounce the militaristic policy of both old parties of investing countless hundreds of millions of dollars in armaments after the victorious completion of what was to have been the "last war." We call attention to the fatal results of such a program in Europe, carried on prior to 1914, and culminating in the Great War; we declare that such a policy, adding unbearable burdens to the working class and to all the people, can lead only to the complete Prussianization of the nation, and ultimately to war; and we demand immediate and complete abandonment of this fatal program.

The Socialist Party sounds the warning. It calls upon the people to defeat both parties at the polls, and to elect the candidates of the Socialist Party to the end of restoring political democracy and bringing about complete industrial freedom.

The Socialist Party of the United States therefore summons all who believe in this fundamental doctrine to prepare for a complete reorganization of our social system, based upon public ownership of public necessities; upon government by representatives chosen from occupational as well as from geographical groups, in harmony with our industrial development; and with citizenship based on service; that we may end forever the exploitation of class by class.

To achieve this end the Socialist Party pledges itself to the following program:

1. SOCIAL

1. All business vitally essential for the existence and welfare of the people, such as railroads, express service, steamship lines, telegraphs, mines, oil wells, power plants, elevators, packing houses, cold storage plants and all industries operating on a national scale, should be taken over by the nation.
2. All publicly owned industries should be administered jointly by the government and representatives of the workers, not for revenue of profit, but with the sole object of securing just compensation and humane conditions of employment to the workers and efficient and reasonable service to the public.
3. All banks should be acquired by the government, and incorporated in a unified public banking system.
4. The business of insurance should be taken over by the government, and should be extended to include insurance against accident, sickness, invalidity, old age and unemployment, without contribution on the part of the worker.
5. Congress should enforce the provisions of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments with reference to the Negroes, and effective federal legislation should be enacted to secure to the Negro full civil, political, industrial and educational rights.

2. INDUSTRIAL

1. Congress should enact effective laws to abolish child labor, to fix minimum wages, based on an ascertained cost of a decent standard of life, to protect migratory and unemployed workers from oppression, to abolish detective and strike-breaking agencies and to establish a shorter work-day in keeping with increased industrial productivity.

3. POLITICAL

1. The constitutional freedom of speech, press and assembly should be restored by repealing the Espionage Law and all other repressive legislation and by prohibiting the executive usurpation of authority.

2. All prosecutions under the Espionage Law should be discontinued, and all persons serving prison sentences for alleged offenses growing out of religious beliefs, political views or industrial activities should be fully pardoned and immediately released.

3. No alien should be deported from the United States on account of his political views or participation in labor struggles, nor in any event without proper trial on specific charges. The arbitrary power to deport aliens by administrative order should be repealed.

4. The power of the courts to restrain workers in their struggles against employers by the Writ of Injunction or otherwise, and their power to nullify congressional legislation, should be abrogated.

5. Federal judges should be elected by the people and be subject to recall.

6. The President and the Vice-President of the United States should be elected by direct popular election, and be subject to recall. All members of the Cabinet should be elected by Congress and be responsible at all times to the vote thereof.

7. Suffrage should be equal and unrestricted in fact as well as in law for all men and women throughout the nation.

8. Because of the strict residential qualification of suffrage in this country, millions of citizens are disfranchised in every election; adequate provision should be made for the registration and voting of migratory voters.

9. The Constitution of the United States should be amended to strengthen the safeguards of civil and political liberty, and to remove all obstacles to industrial and social reform, and reconstruction, including the changes enumerated in this program, in keeping with the will and interest of the people. It should be made amendable by a majority of the voters of the nation upon their own initiative, or upon the initiative of Congress.

4. FOREIGN RELATIONS

1. All claims of the United States against allied countries for loans made during the war should be cancelled upon the understanding that all war debts among such countries shall likewise be cancelled. The largest possible credit in food, raw material and machinery should be extended to the stricken nations of Europe in order to help them rebuild the ruined world.

2. The Government of the United States should initiate a movement to dissolve the mischievous organization called the "League of Nations" and to create an international parliament, composed of democratically elected representatives of all nations of the world, based upon the recognition of their equal rights, the principles of self-determination, the right to national existence of colonies and other dependencies, freedom of international trade and trade routes by land and sea, and universal disarmament, and be charged with revising the Treaty of Peace on the principles of justice and conciliation.

3. The United States should immediately make peace with the Central Powers and open commercial and diplomatic relations with Russia under the Soviet Government. It should promptly recognize the independence of the Irish Republic.

4. The United States should make and proclaim it a fixed principle in its foreign policy that American capitalists, who acquire concessions or make investments in foreign countries, do so at their own risk, and under no circumstances should our government enter into diplomatic negotiations or controversies or resort to armed conflicts on account of foreign property-claims of American capitalists.

5. FISCAL

1. All war debts and other debts of the Federal Government should immediately be paid in full, the funds for such payment to be raised by means of a progressive property tax, whose burdens should fall upon the rich and particularly upon great fortunes made during the war.

2. A standing progressive income tax and a graduated inheritance tax should be levied to provide for all needs of the government, including the cost of its increasing social and industrial functions.

3. The unearned increment of land should be taxed, all land held out of use should be taxed at full rental value.

DIRECT PRIMARY OF 1920

The direct primary election was held September 7, 1920 and was participated in by the Republican and Democratic parties. The town of Livermore was the only one of the 294 towns and wards that cast no votes.

The following tables give the returns in detail. The summary gives the total vote for each candidate, with the full name and address of the candidate. The tables give only the last name of each candidate.

The first table gives, by counties, the vote of each party for governor, United States senator and representative in congress. The table also gives the total vote of each party.

The second table gives the vote for county offices. The third table gives the vote for councilor, by districts. The fourth table gives the vote for state senators, by districts.

RECOUNTS AFTER PRIMARY

Recounts were held by the Secretary of State after the primary with the following results:

1. For representative, Republican, in Nashua, Ward 1, the vote was:

	Return	Recount
James H. Hunt	453	453
Albert E. Brownrigg	284	277
Marshall D. Cobleigh	282	283
Ovid F. Winslow	280	283

There were two to be nominated and in place of Dr. Brownrigg, whose nomination had been announced, the recount created a tie vote. On a flip of the coin, the tie was broken by the selection of Mr. Winslow.

2. For representative, Democratic, in Nashua, Ward 7, the vote was:

	Return	Recount
James A. Gallagher	189	189
Frank O. Morse	115	119
James J. Welch	110	110
Raymond S. Cotton	108	114

There were three to be nominated, and in place of Mr. Welch, whose nomination had been announced, the recount showed Mr. Cotton to be the nominee.

3. For commissioner, Republican, in Belknap county, Charles F. Locke was nominated over Walter C. Wyatt by four votes, which the recount increased to eight votes.

4. For representative, Republican, in Manchester, Ward 4, the vote was:

	Return	Recount
Ernest A. Merrill	411	413
Marshall C. Blanchard	408	406

This did not affect the result.

5. For senator, Republican, in the 17th district, the vote was:

	Return	Recount
Adams L. Greer	1003	1001
John B. Flanders	943	943

This did not affect the result.

ELECTION, NOVEMBER 2, 1920

The following is the result of the election. In the summary the full name and address of the candidate is given, in the tables only the last name and the party. Political parties are designated by the first letters, "r" for Republican, "d" for Democrat, "s" for Socialist, "i. d." for Independent Democrat nomination papers, "i. r." for Independent Republican nomination papers, "c" for Citizens' nomination papers, and "n. p." for candidates whose names did not appear on the ballot at all but were written in by voters.

The order of the tables is as follows: 1, For presidential electors and governor; 2, for senator and representative in congress; 3, for councilor, in five districts; 4, for senator, 24 districts; 5, for representatives to the general court; 6, for county officers.

PROCLAMATION

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Concord, November 18, 1920.

Be it known, that I, John H. Bartlett, Governor of the State of New Hampshire, in obedience to the request of the Constitutional Convention, held in January, 1920, do hereby proclaim to the people of New Hampshire that the Constitution of the State is not amended, as proposed by said Convention, because none of the questions covering the amendments submitted to vote of the people at the biennial election, November 2, 1920, were approved by the necessary two-thirds vote.

Given under my hand and the seal of the state, at the council chamber, this eighteenth day of November, 1920, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and forty-fifth.

JOHN H. BARTLETT, Governor.

By the Governor,

Edwin C. Bean, Secretary of State.

POPULATION OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

Number of Inhabitants, by Counties and Minor Civil Divisions TOTAL POPULATION, INCREASE, AND DISTRIBUTION

Population of the state.—New Hampshire was one of the original thirteen states. According to the Fourteenth Census, taken as of January 1, 1920, its population is 443,083, which represents an increase of 12,511, or 2.9 per cent, over the population in 1910. During the same period the population of the United States increased 14.9 per cent. The following summary shows the population of New Hampshire from 1790, the first Federal census, to 1920, inclusive, together with the number and per cent of increase in each decade, in comparison with the per cent of increase for the United States as a whole.

¹A minus sign (—) denotes decrease.

Counties.—New Hampshire has 10 counties, 5 of which increased in population during the last decade, and 5 decreased. The largest percentage of decrease was in Carroll County—8 per cent. There have been no changes in county boundaries since 1910.

Density of population.—The total land area of the state in 1920 is 9,031 square miles and the average number of persons to the square mile is 49.1 (see Table 1); in 1910 and 1900 the averages were 47.7 and 45.6, respectively.

Minor civil divisions.—In New Hampshire the primary division of the county is the town or city, and in 1920 these number 224 and 11, respectively; but, in addition to the town or city, Carroll County has 1 location and Coos County has 3 locations, 10 grants, 7 townships, and 6 purchases, making the total number of primary divisions in the state 262. Besides these primary divisions, there are 2 secondary divisions, or incorporated villages which are not independent minor civil divisions, but form parts of the towns in which they are located (see Table 2).

Of the 262 primary divisions referred to above, 9 of those in Coos County have had no population returned at the last three censuses, and are not included in Table 2 in the minor civil divisions of the county.

Cities.—Manchester, the largest of the 11 cities of New Hampshire, has a population of 78,384 in 1920. Nashua, the next largest, has a population of 28,379 and Concord, the capital of the state, 22,167. (See Tables 3 and 4.)

The following summary shows, for each city having 10,000 inhabitants or more in 1920, the population at each census for which figures are available, together with the increase during each decade.

Urban and rural population.—The Census Bureau defines urban population as that residing in cities and other incorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more. As New Hampshire has no incorporated villages of 2,500 or more and no city of less than 6,000 inhabitants, it has been considered advisable to include in the urban territory not only the population of the 11 cities of New Hampshire, but also that of all towns having over 2,500 inhabitants. This probably results in the "urban area" of New Hampshire including some population which in other states would be segregated as "rural," but as this inclusion covers only 16 towns out of a total of 227, there is no reason to suppose that the proportion of urban population is greatly overstated.

Urban population in New Hampshire being thus defined, the rural population, therefore, consists of the population outside of towns and cities having 2,500 inhabitants or more.

The following summary presents, for the last three censuses, the urban and rural population of the state distributed among cities and towns grouped according to specified limits of population. The classification is based upon the population of each place as it existed at each census. The percentage of the population of New Hampshire living in cities and towns of 2,500 or more at the three census periods was 63.1, 59.2 and 55, respectively, there being during each decade practically the same increase in the proportion of urban population
